National coach of the future?

Socceroo captain Jimmy Rooney after earning his 50th full international cap in the clash with England goes on to overtake Peter Wilson and become our most capped international:

"I feel terrific just now. I love the game and I can't see myself not making it through the World Cup. I've set myself one big target - Spain, 1982." Rooney said this week during training for the game against England.

Rooney thrives on challenges. During his 12½ years in Australian soccer he always has marched towards new horizons. Winning the Argus Medal while with Lions as Victoria's best player in 1969 started the hunger that still gnaws away inside him.

He reached for bigger things in moving to Sydney in 1970 to join Prague. Sydney was the soccer capital then. Not so now.

Before leaving, he had been given his first taste of representative football in the Victorian State team, coached by Rale Rasic. That was the start of a lasting partnership.

Although Rooney's motto is to look forward, not back, he does agree to give us his "Best Eleven" of Australian players. It is, in 4-3-3 formation:

All except Kinnell and Vieri played for Australia. Kinnell, former captain of Sunderland, starred with Juventus (Vic) Western Suburbs (NSW) and Marconi.

Rooney came into the national squad for the series against the visiting FA team in 1971, to replace the captain who was injured.

"There had not been a soccer player who made an impact in Australia the way Warren had. His absence left a big hole to be filled. I was aware of that," Rooney remembers.

Rooney believes Warren retired prematurely, as did Jimmy Mackay and Ray Baartz.

Comparing himself with his contemporaries, does Rooney concede to having any weaknesses as a player? A pause . . .

"Speed, yes I've got that. . . A powerful shot with either foot . . . Tremendous header of a ball . . . Too big for the other players. . .

"No, I've got no weaknesses."

Rooney hopes that the glamor surrounding Saturday's Australia v. England match will bring home to all soccer federations the need to make youngsters more aware of the top level of soccer, to make them aim at reaching the Philips League if not the national team itself.

"At the moment, kids are playing matches at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, whereas they should be coming along to PSL with their fathers," he says.

"You won't see young Aussie Rules players having matches on Saturday. The games are played early, so the kids can go and see their VFL heroes play afterwards.

"That's one way to help the kids identify with the game's personalities and to help build a star system."

The Australia v. New York Cosmos match which drew 50,000 to the Showgrounds last year did a lot towards establishing Eddie Krncevic, Ken Boden and Tommy Cumming as Socceroo stars. The England game, to be televised throughout Australia, will continue that process.

It's just another game for Rooney, though. Spain's his aim.

But what then?

APIA and St. George made bids for him at the start of this year, but Rooney's hardly likely to switch clubs again as a player.

His future is in coaching, he says. A PSL club? "Yes, you have to start somewhere." What does that imply — the national team perhaps?

"Sure why not?"

GARY COLE WAY AHEAD

Gary Cole holds a commanding lead in the progressive goalscorers' list since the start of the Philips League.

Before last weekend's games his 59-

LAST WEEK'S MATCH

22 JUNE, 1980, GABBIE STADIUM, SYDNEY

BLACKTOWN CITY 1 — HEIDELBERG 2

Heidelberg scored almost from the kick-off at the Gabbie Stadium then repeated the trick soon after resumption to go up against Blacktown City and suggest an avalanche of goals to come.

However, the Demons showed fighting spirit and came back with vengeance scoring through Paul Wilkinson to make it 2:1 and almost snatched a point in the last minute of the match as Ian Hunter raced into the penalty box to face Banovic. The Australian keeper fell before Hunter and blocked the shot which would have given the Demons the equaliser.

Heidelberg opened up with some venom from the kick-off but were rewarded with a soft goal after only 80 seconds of play. Theo Selemidis found space on the left flank before crossing for Andy Bozikas inside the penalty area and some seven metres from the line. With nobody to challenge, Bozikas had time to trap the ball before slamming it past bewildered Freeman.

The Demons came storming back and Izatt should have made it all even in the tenth minute. Following a fine cross from Ian Hunter, Izatt was left with a simple task of finding the net from some ten metres away. His shot cleared the crossbar by quite a few feet with the visitors scrambling.

Hormazabal's fierce drive just cleared the crossbar to add to the home team's frustration before Heidelberg created its second chance in this match. "King" Cole faced Freeman following a perfect pass by Jaie Paton but the Demon's keeper was in great touch diving at the feet of Cole to save.

Freeman earned yet another 'man of the match' tag and I am sure that Heidelberg players will not complain. Only two minutes after resumption he saved yet another point blank header, this time from Cole.

With Ken Taylor replacing Rooney in midfield, Heidelberg continued to look dangerous and in the 53rd minute made it 2:0. "King" Cole scored his 18th goal this season after brushing past Peter Cuk to slam an angled shot past Freeman. It was the 50th League goal for Cole and one must wonder whether this tall bustling striker is on his way to a record goal mark this season.

Peter Freeman made yet another great save, this time from Andy Bozikas before Blacktown City came back into the game and pushed forward looking for goals.

With 61 minutes gone, Jimmy Tansey, certainly the best player for Heidelberg on the day made an unusual error following a cross by O'Donnell.

He attempted to side foot the ball towards his keeper but instead found Paul Wilkinson running hard to beat the advancing Banovic with a low shot.

Izatt should have made more of his opportunity towards the end, but the same could be said for Paul Wilkinson. In the end it appeared Ian Hunter could even the score with seconds remaining but Banovic saved and the visitors went home with two well earned points.

Offside.

A player is ruled "offside" when, in the opposing team's half of the field, he is closer to the goal line than the ball (if touched or played by a member of his own team towards him) and there are less than two opposing players — including the goal-keeper — between him and the opposition's goal line.

A pain in the side (or leg, or shoulder, or anywhere) can make anyone feel "off". Deep, penetrating infra-red rays are often prescribed to relieve pain and speed up the healing process.
